He was escorted by a company of military to the grounds of the Alabama Conference Female College where he made a brief address and left for the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute a mile and a half from the city.
There the train was run into the grounds and as he alighted the president was greeted by the Principal Booker T. Washington. The president and party were escorted to a platform from which they witnessed a parade of fifteen hundred students followed by sixty-one floats representing every variety of institutions in the state. From there the party went for a short drive about the grounds, then to the chapel, where the president was introduced by Washington and made an address to the students and faculty and citizens, who had gathered.
The president's train left at ten thirty for Montgomery.

PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO "CRADLE OF CONFEDERACY"

Montgomery, Ala., Oct. 24.—The train bearing President Roosevelt arrived here from Tuskegee at noon, amid the blowing of whistles and the cheering of thousands of citizens who had assembled to greet him.

The president was received by Governor Jelks and Mayor Teague, heading a large committee of reception and escorted by a military and civil parade to the historic Capitol and stopped upon a stand within a few feet of the spot where Jefferson Davis took the oath as president of the Confederacy.

The president was welcomed to the city by Congressman Wiley and to the state by Governor Jelks, who introduced the president. Mr. Roosevelt then delivered his address.

The president expressed appreciation of the hearty welcome, spoke of the importance of the south of the isthmian canal, considered the cotton question and its relations to foreign trade, and closed with references to the children and individual worth as essential to the worth of the state. The president was presented with a bale of cotton which will be expressed to Washington.

He took a short drive about the city and left at two o'clock for Birmingham.

BRILLIANT RECEPTION GIVEN AT BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Oct. 24.—The president's train arrived here promptly at four forty-five. Mayor Ward heading a committee of reception which included the most prominent citizens, met the president at the station and delivered a formal address of welcome to the city. The way was thronged with a struggling mass of citizens and lighted brilliantly with electricity.

The ovation to the president was continuous and he stood in the carriage all the way, acknowledging the outbursts of enthusiasm.
At Capitol Park the party entered the stand and Chairman Frank Anderson, of the reception committee, introduced General Rufus N. Rhodes, editor of the Birmingham News, who welcomed and introduced the president.

TEMPERATURE IS CITY COUNCIL BEGINNING TO RISE

And As a Consequence Warmer Weather is to Be Expected During the Next Few Days.

The temperature has begun to rise in all southern states, as well as in all sections of the country, and the local outlook is that much warmer weather will be experienced during the remainder of the week in Pensacola. Yesterday light frosts were noticeable in Augusta and Macon, but outside of this and a heavy frost at Wilmington, no frost was reported.
It was hoped that the cold weather would continue in this section until heavy frosts occurred, but today's forecast is rain and warmer weather.
In his summary of weather conditions Observer Reed yesterday said: "There has been an increase in pressure over the Pacific Slope the Plateau regions, and over the northern states to New England, which has weakened the depression over Montana and the disturbance in the Lake Region; a crest of high pressure now extends from central California to North Dakota and upper Michigan, with temperatures below freezing from Nevada, Utah and Wyoming to Lake Superior. The temperature has risen except in California, Kansas, North Dakota, western South Dakota, Minnesota and upper Michigan.
The southwestern depression has moved slowly northward into the extreme northern portion of Texas, causing generally light rain northward into Nebraska and northward into the central valleys and Tennessee. Light precipitation also occurred during the past 12 hours in the Lake Region, Oregon, Washington, northern Montana and North Dakota.
The easterly movement of the depression of the movement in Texas will cause a rise in the temperature over this vicinity tonight, and showers may be expected tonight and Wednesday with fresh southeast to south winds."

The greatest enthusiasm greeted the president as he rose to speak. Following the president's address, former Governor Joseph E. Johnston, introduced a number of young ladies, descendants of Confederate soldiers, sponsors and maids of honor of Camp Hardee, United Confederate Veterans, who tendered a badge of the Camp. The speaker said the act was to express to Mr. Roosevelt their respect for the president as such and for a man of courage and unsectional patriotism and in appreciation of his kindness to the Confederate Veterans. The badge was presented to the president by Miss Sophia Wittichen.

THE WEST VIRGINIA ARRIVES OFF PASSES

The New Orleans Playhouse of Tuesday says: The United States cruiser West Virginia, which is to take the President from the mouth of South Pass to Virginia, arrived off the mouth of the river yesterday morning and dropped anchor.

The West Virginia almost immediately called up New Orleans on the wireless, and reported all hands safe, a fine voyage, and safe anchorage. During the morning the American DeForest wireless plant, in the Hibernia Building held repeated conversations with the West Virginia, and there was a decided regret expressed that the ship could not come up to the city.

The cruiser will remain at the mouth of the Pass until the President arrives on board from the light-house tender Magnolia early Friday morning.
Then she will get under way for Key West, where the remainder of the cruiser squadron will join her in the race to Virginia.

CITY COUNCIL WILL MEET TO-NIGHT

The Regular Session To Convene When Bond Matter Will Be Discussed.

The regular monthly session of the city council will be held tonight, and it is expected that considerable business will be transacted, as there are a number of important matters that will demand the attention of the body.
While there are a few of the councilmen absent from the city, it is anticipated that this will not delay business, and that the bond matter, which is the most important matter demanding attention of the members, will come up at this session.

Mayor Bliss is daily in receipt of letters from prominent bankers and bond men in the big money centers inquiring as to when the sale will occur, and asking for other particulars, and it is therefore expected that there will not be the least trouble in floating the issue.

There are also a number of other important questions that will come up at this time, and the meeting will no doubt prove interesting.

FANCY PRICES PAID FOR PUBLICITY BY MUTUAL

Employee Identifies Dispatches to Newspapers and Tells How Mutual's Press Bureau is Run.

New York, Oct. 24.—Emory McClinick, actuary of the Mutual Life Insurance Co., was the first witness today before the Insurance Investigating Committee. He was questioned as to why the dividends of the company decreased while the salary of President McCurdy was being increased to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year.
Charles J. Smith, who said he was an agent in the employ of the Mutual, testified that his duties were to counteract any injury done the Mutual by the publication of news stories. He said his salary was eight thousand dollars a year and that he paid for dispatches sent out by a telegraphic news bureau, one dollar a line. Smith was shown clippings from a number of papers, including the Florida Times-Union and the Atlanta Constitution, and said he believed all were paid for at the rate of a dollar a line. Smith said his idea was to send out the testimony taken before the investigating committee that the Associated Press neglected to send. He said he had been paid more than $11,000 by the Mutual since the investigation began for dispatches reporting the proceedings, and that the company expected to pay more still. Smith said some papers refused to print these dispatches without marking them as advertisements.

TO IMPROVE THE STREETS OF CITY

Drainage And Ditching Has Now Been Completed And Work Will Now Commence.

The street force, which, for a number of weeks has been engaged in drainage and ditch work, will at once turn its attention to the repairing and building of new streets in all portions of the city. This announcement was made yesterday, and today, or before the expiration of the week, will see the entire street force engaged in this work.
Since the outbreak of yellow fever here the street force has been engaged in drainage work and in cleaning up vacant lots in order that the city might be placed in a thorough sanitary condition. This work, which no doubt has assisted materially in decreasing the sickness, has now been about completed, and it has been decided by the officials to commence the work of repairing the streets and thoroughfares of the city, some of which are in a most dilapidated condition.

SMALL NUMBER OF FEVER CASES

Health Officials and Physicians Are Encouraged by Tuesday's Record.

New cases..... 9
Total to date..... 496
Deaths yesterday..... 1
Total deaths to date..... 68
Cases discharged..... 333
Cases under treatment..... 86

Nine new cases of yellow fever developed in Pensacola during yesterday. This was the official report compiled at the office of the State Board of Health last night. The new cases are principally confined to the southeastern section of the city, where a great many of the new cases seem to be developing.

The report of last night was not discouraging by any means, although it showed a small increase over the previous night's report, and of course the state health officials and the physicians are encouraged, for the number of new cases has not shown any appreciable gain now for a number of days, and it is expected that there will soon be a marked decrease.

The number of cases under treatment has been reduced to eighty-six, the smallest number known in many weeks. This, of course partly relieves the physicians, who have been working night and day caring for the patients.

Another Death.
After the official report had been compiled last night another death occurred. The person was F. C. West, who expired of the fever at his home, corner Main and Alcaniz streets. The deceased was only reported Monday by his physician as having yellow fever. He was not expected to survive during the day.
